Woodstock worries corner is a serious accident waiting to happen

• Resident: cars and trucks frequently misjudge sharp Rt. 26 corner in Bryant Pond, skid across oncoming lane, and end up on town common

By ALISON ALOISIO

It's a nightmare for the Woodstock fire chief.

Town Manager Vern Maxfield wants more flashing lights or signs to warn motorists about it.

An MDOT engineer would bypass it, if the state "had a pot of gold."

It's the sharp turn on Route 26 by the Post Office in Bryant Pond -- the site two weeks ago of another tractor-trailer rollover.

"It's my worst nightmare," said chief Bill Seames. If a gas truck or hazardous waste truck rolls over there, we're in trouble. We'd probably have to evacuate the town.

Last week's rollover was the second within a year-and-a-half. In both incidents, fortunately, there were no injuries. The trucks were also not carrying flammable or hazardous cargo.

The town's selectmen this spring suggested that additional flashing lights and/or signs be installed near the corner, as part of a project they would like MDOT to consider.

"Something should be done," said Town Manager Vern Maxfield.

MDOT traffic engineer Billy Stowell said the ideal solution from a traffic standpoint would be to build a bypass around the village. But that, he said, would be very expensive and would affect the businesses in the village.

He said straightening the curve has not been discussed. While it might seem to be an obvious solution, it would have drawbacks, Stowell said.

"If you eliminate the hairpin turn, people will speed up, and that could be dangerous for pedestrians," he said.

Stowell said excess speed seems to be the problem now. The current number and arrangement of signs, however, "seems to be as it should be," he said.

Margaret Hand, who has lived on the corner for 12 years, agrees that speed is a problem -- but she thinks there's room for improvement in the signage.

She said that about once a month a vehicle heading north rounds the corner and ends up on the village common on the other side of the road.

Only luck that no one is coming the other way has prevented more accidents, she said. "You can hear the screech of the tires, and you just pray there isn't a crash at the end of the screech," she said.

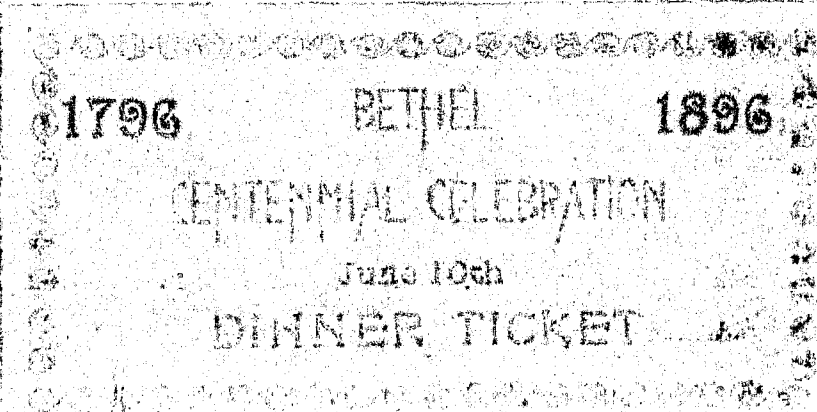

She said other accidents in the past two years have included a

Just the (1896) ticket

• Bring one of these to The Citizen office, for a year's free subscription and dinner for two

A century ago, Bethel celebrated its centennial, and The Bethel News and Journal printed tickets good for a year's free subscription. But the offer didn't stop there, the back of the ticket promised. If you would put it away, your great-grandchildren may use it one hundred years hence, not only for a free subscription, but also for "as good a dinner as you ever ate, free."

That's a guarantee that we'd be delighted to make good on. We know of at least one ticket that is still in existence; we don't know how many more may be out there -- probably stuck away in family albums and scrapbooks.

If you have one, just bring it to our office in the Cole Block, during the week prior to the Bicentennial Week celebration (Aug. 9-11). We'll sign you up for a free year's subscription and treat you to a dinner for two at one of Bethel's fine restaurants.

A hint to help you hunt: the tickets are printed on heavy, red stock.

Jenkins: no plans to hand EBS over to town

• Superintendent says property is being put to appropriate educational use

By MICHAEL DANIELS

SAD44 has no near-term plans to turn the former Ethel Bissbee School building over to the town of Bethel.

The school district would be interested in having a dialogue with the town about the site, Superintendent of Schools Ron Jenkins told the Bethel Board of Selectmen last week, but for the present the building is being used for appropriate educational purposes.

Children's classes ended at EBS in 1994, when the Crescent Park School addition was completed.

Since then the building has served as the site of most of the district's adult and community education classes, including the Adult Learning Center. It also houses the District Exchange.

Cathy Newell, director of the Adult Ed program, said that prior to moving into EBS the program had been forced to shuttle its classes -- and its equipment -- among whatever public spaces were available on a day-to-day basis.

But such an arrangement is no longer workable, Jenkins told the selectmen. "It's really essential to have daytime space for adult education in this day and age," he said.

Currently, EBS is the only option for housing the program, he said, with other space "either non-existent or not cost effective."

There is also the possibility the superintendent's office might be moved to EBS, Jenkins said, if the current office space at Telstar is needed to serve students there.

Schoolsman Rick Whitney asked about the safety of the EBS building. When the school district was pushing for the CPS addition, he said, EBS had been described as a building that should be torn down.

Jenkins replied that if the building were to ever be used again for children, it would "need a lot of work," but it is adequate for its present use, he contended.

The superintendent concluded by telling the selectmen that if they had any ideas for the property, they were more than welcome to bring them to a board meeting and propose something.

Optional full-day kindergarten planned for AES

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Andover Elementary School will pilot a full-day kindergarten program this fall, thanks to an opportunity created by low student enrollment.

The school is expected to have not more than seven -- and most likely five -- kindergarten students, Supt. Ron Jenkins told the School Board Monday.

With about 10 students expected in grade one, the district will offer kindergarten parents the option of having their children stay on in the afternoon to join in programs with the first-graders.

The program would start after the first ranking quarter.

Jenkins also said a study plan for long-term programs for the whole student body will be undertaken because of a drop in overall student enrollment.

The enrollment has gone from 127 students three or four years ago to an expected 65 to 70 for this year, Jenkins said.

"As enrollment decreases the delivery of services may change," he said.

He said parents would be involved in the process.

Dept. of Education recognition

SAD44 has been notified that its elementary schools will be recognized by the U.S. Department of Education, largely for their efforts in computer technology, Jenkins said.

Two school districts in each state are chosen for what is known as the Back to School Commitment program, Jenkins said, and more details will be forthcoming from the department, and he expects a representative will visit the district in the fall.

He said former state

Commissioner of Education Leo

Martin nominated SAD44.

Jenkins said he is especially pleased with the recognition because "it was nothing we applied for or requested."

In other business, the board approved a new teacher appointment. Kristen Martin was appointed for an English position at Bethel High School, and Mary Baker and Susan Parker were approved for part-time positions as French teacher and coordinator of health coordinator, respectively, at the high school. Debbie Cassin was appointed district reading Recovery teacher.

Jenkins also said he is happy to see the resignation of Bethel's former teacher Ken S. who had been in the town of Bethel for many years.

Newry appeal tonight Shoreland rule revisions still stymie couple's plans

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Newry Planning Board last week affirmed that David and Pauline Ouellette's non-conforming lot on the Bear River cannot be sold as buildable.

Meanwhile, the Board of Appeals will meet tonight regarding the couple's application to build a home on another, conforming lot. The Planning Board rejected the application last month.

MMA interpretation

The non-conforming lot, established in 1989, has a frontage of 150 feet. A change in the town's shoreland zoning ordinance since then now requires 200 feet of frontage.

Because the Ouellette's own another 150-foot non-conforming lot adjacent to the first, the town ordinance requires that the two be combined to create a single, conforming lot.

The Ouellette's had hoped to sell the first lot, by itself, as buildable. At a June meeting board members had questions regarding the interpretation of the ordinance, and asked for a written opinion from the Maine Municipal Association.

They received that opinion at their meeting last week. The MMA confirmed the lot in question should be combined with the other one, and is

SIGN INITIATIVE TOPPLED, MDOT BLUES WILL STAY

By a margin of 17-22, Bethel voters at Monday evening's special Town Meeting turned down a proposal to have the town take over the business directional signs within its boundaries. Supporters argued a town-run system would help control the increasing clutter of MDOT signs, and that signs in the proposed town system would be better organized and easier to read. But opponents argued the move was premature, and they questioned the safety of the large kiosks that were a key part of the proposed new system. (The MDOT signs shown here have been knocked temporarily askew by road work at the eastern end of the Bethel Station Parkway.) The remaining 11 articles on Monday's warrant all passed easily, including an Enhanced 911 Street Naming and Numbering Ordinance and an article giving the Board of Selectmen the authority to accept grants on behalf of the Bethel Airport Authority.

BELIEVES IT WAS MOUNTAIN LION

To the Editor:

I certainly believe that a mountain lion was seen in Grafton. Years ago, it was 30 or more, my husband Arthur and I were coming from Locke Mills toward Bethel and one crossed the road in front of us, on the turn just before we came to the Chandler Hill Road. We reported it to Game Warden Alanson Noble at that time and he would not believe us. But we were certain it was a mountain lion and others sighted it about the same time. There was no mistaking it, the long tail and all, and we had a good look at it. We even looked it up in a book after we got home.

NOVA'S REAL SUCCESSES

To the Editor:

Last Wednesday the citizens of Applied Technology Region 9 met in Rumford to reconsider NOVA's secondary budget for the coming year. In preparation for that meeting, I and many others, spoke to friends and neighbors, asking them for support in what I expected to be a fairly close vote. Many responded, and the overwhelming approval of the budget was both gratifying and somewhat surprising. The real measure of NOVA's success however, is not in the percentages of votes cast. Rather, it is in the private stories of young men and women who have stayed in school, done the extra work necessary to complete one of the applied technology programs, and whose lives have been changed through the use of skills forged there. To those who helped pass the word, and to those who gave up one of the loveliest evenings of the summer to drive to Rumford and vote, my heartfelt thanks.

LAST CALL: BICENTENNIAL PARADE

To the Editor:

This is last call! Come and join the parade on Aug. 10. We are still accepting entries for floats, etc. The count is now at 19. We are over half way to our goal of 30.

We still need volunteers to help carry the shoe-string theater puppets. The puppets and costumes are made of paper-mache and cloth and will not be heavy or difficult to handle. Groups, organizations, families and individuals are all welcome to participate. Please call us for more details. The shoe-string puppets are being sponsored by the Mahoosuc Arts Council.

There will be three categories of prizes for floats: 1) carrying out the theme, 2) originality, and 3) complexity of construction. There will be three prizes for each category as well.

Category one, first prize will be a chair made and donated by S. Timberlake & Co. Second prize will be a framed barn poster. Third prize will be a commemorative bicentennial coin.

Category two, first prize is a specially made and engraved pottery serving dish, donated by Bonneria Pottery. Second prize will be a framed artwork made and donated by Donna Nickerson. Third prize will be a commemorative bicentennial coin.

Category three, first prize will be a handmade wooden serving tray, made and donated by Randy Gilbert. Second prize will be a wooden item made and donated by Bob Kempton. Third prize will be a commemorative bicentennial coin.

All the floats will be judged prior to the parade and will receive a poster to display on it as it goes through the parade. The prizes will be awarded at the ceremony on the common at 1:45 p.m.

The parade will line up on Cross Street and the route will be along Railroad Street, up Church Street and then down Main Street. Because the parade will be quite large, we feel we need lots of room to spread out.

The parade is only the beginning of the events that will be taking place on Aug. 10. It will kick off the day at 11 a.m. Then at the parade at 2 p.m., the first concert of the day will begin, with the 195th Army National Guard Band. The Mahoosuc Music Makers and the Third Regiment, Camp A and Drum Corp of Maine will also play. We are currently looking for parade people to help with a big finale. If you would be interested in going, please contact Jonathan Smith at 824-2875.

In the evening, from 7 to 9, we will have a second concert featuring the Zingo Zango Jazz Band and the Hillsmen Singers and County Chords. This will be an evening of fun, music and entertainment for all ages. This concert is partly being sponsored by the Mahoosuc Arts Council as well. This day of festivity will end with a fireworks display at about 9 p.m.

All in all, we hope that Saturday, Aug. 10, will be a day of great fun for all and a day to remember! Please plan to be there.

Corner

pickup truck and motorcycle crash, as well as the other tractor-trailer rollover. That truck, headed south, struck a building.

Hand said it might help to have more signs at the top of Merrifield Hill south of town, warning northbound drivers of the hill and upcoming curves.

Another curve at the bottom of the hill was the scene of a tractor-trailer accident this spring, while a March tanker rollover on the hill caused an oil spill.

Hand suggested a 30-mile-an-hour speed limit sign and a "dangerous curves" sign at the top of the hill. The current speed limit coming down the hill is 45.

But Skip Herrick, the Oxford County sheriff, said speed has not been a common factor in most accidents at the corner by Hand's house. He sees slippery road conditions, or other error in vehicle operation, as the problem.

"Even if they're doing the speed limit, it comes up on a person quickly," he said of the corner. "It's like a half a circle with buildings all around it."

Herrick said some combination of additional signage, lights and law enforcement might improve safety.

From an MDOT statistical standpoint, the corner is not hazardous. The state sets eight accidents in a three-year period as the standard to define a site as a high-accident location.

In the period from January 1993 to December 1995, MDOT records show only one -- the earlier tractor-trailer rollover, according to Carl Croce of the MDOT Bureau of Planning.

He said MDOT has nothing in the way of major improvements planned at this time for the site.

Visibility problem at 232
A little farther south, the Route

26/Route 232 intersection has compiled a more impressive accident record -- six accidents in the same three years.

One was the fatal crash last fall that killed four teenagers.

"Routes 232/26 need to be looked at," said Herrick. "Something needs to happen with visibility. Coming out of 232, I'm uncomfortable with how far you have to get out to see -- especially to the right. And it's an unpredictable intersection, with the straightaway to the left."

The Woodstock selectmen have also submitted a proposal to MDOT for improving the Route 232 intersection. It would bring the road into Route 26 at more of a 90-degree angle than the current layout.

Of the two-project proposal, Maxfield said, "It made a list for consideration."

He has not, however, been given a time frame for a reply.

Zoning

therefore not buildable. The board voted to go with that interpretation.

"Let it sit"

The board has been working for several months on updating the shoreline zoning ordinance.

A provision within the proposed ordinance could allow for the Ouellette's lot to be sold as buildable. The lot could be granted an exception if it can support a waste disposal system and meet other dimension requirements.

Code Enforcement Officer Norm Putnam suggested the Ouellette's simply wait and see if the town adopts the revised ordinance.

"Let it sit," he said. "See if it goes through the town."

David Ouellette said later he is not sure what course of action he will pursue.

Appeal on third lot

The Ouellette's also own a third, conforming lot next to the other two. They had submitted an application to the board to build a home on it that would contain a separate apartment.

They believed when they bought the lots that they were zoned limited residential. But the zoning changed to resource protection in 1991. Only single-housekeeping units are allowed in resource protection, and the board rejected the plan, terming it a two-unit design.

It will now be up to the Board of Appeals to decide the issue.

Waiver for skiway rejected

Sunday River Ski Resort submitted an application last week to build additional office space at the South Ridge Lodge.

Offices for 19 people are proposed, primarily to relieve crowding among current employees, according to Mike Myers, vice-president for hotel development.

In submitting the application, engineer Joe Aloisio asked the board to waive the requirement to notify abutters.

He said there have never been abutter objections to previous additions at the lodge.

But several board members objected to a waiver.

"The process allows people to voice their concerns. Can we assume that just because in the past there hasn't been any opposition, that will be the case this time?" said David Walker.

Art Marshall described the project as a "fairly insulated activity," with mostly seasonal residents at least a thousand feet away.

But Joanne Mercier said that wasn't the problem. "I don't think it's an issue -- it's a precedent," she said.

The board voted 2-4 against a waiver, with Mercier, Walker, Don Sandstrom and Jim Trelethen opposed, and Marshall and Norm Davis in favor.

The board will also await information from the fire chief, road commissioner and sheriff's department before acting on the application.

Why can't they get the weather right?

By MIKE BROWN

Perhaps understanding U.S. weather and forecasting it hasn't improved much since 1755 when Ben Franklin pursued a small tornado for three-fourths of a mile on horseback repeatedly lashing out with his whip in an effort to dissipate the storm. Well, what do you expect from a guy who flies a kite on a string with a metal key in an electrical storm.

The basement of the State Office building in Augusta houses the Maine Emergency Management Office. It is a locked door, sign-in, sign-out office for some reason. It can't be the Maine weather report that MEMA rips from its FAX machine and posts around the Capitol buildings.

For after reading the report, one can listen and watch every meteorologist's daily and evening reports on television, radio, NOAA and Coast Guard tapes and see and hear the very redundant thing. And about half the time they are wrong. Perhaps that's why weather reporting has a special vocabulary of its very own, with a fanny covering tone of ambiguous words. There is no such thing as an accurate or precise weather report.

And what is a meteorologist anyway, except an artful dodger that few people can pronounce? Are there conferred degrees in meteorology? From whom? How come a guy can be a TV sports jock one day and a "meteorologist" the next week? A Sally Struthers meteorologist on-the-job correspondence course maybe?

And why give these guys and gals 10 minutes of redundant "may-be, could-be" tap dancing time on the evening television "news"? Maine television stations are birds on a wire. All sing the same song, thirds, old news, weather and sports.

Just last week the Maine coast was drowned in nearly six inches of continuous rain. Meteorologist's prediction? Twenty-four hours of typhoon-type deluge damn near flooded Maine rivers and filled home basements the breadth of Maine.

Sewage pollution abatement capacity was quickly breached and overflowed sending raw sewage the length of the Maine coast shutting down the state's entire shellfish harvesting at a time when clam diggers either make or break their annual livelihoods.

Local weather forecasting today is practically a crime. Consider that Maine "meteorologists" can't predict six inches of rain with 25,000 surface weather observations made every day around the world from 10,000 land stations, 6,700 ships with weather measuring equipment and 1,000 daily measurements of winds and temperatures from balloons.

And consider that Maine is down-weather from 3,000 U.S. weather stations and computers that perform ten billion arithmetical operations in printing out a 24-hour forecast. What sophisticated equipment and graphic jazz applied to today's weather forecasting and reporting is merely what enables meteorologists to explain in greater detail why they are wrong.

Maine fishermen, whose very lives depend daily on the weather, gave up on believing much of what meteorologists say. If they predict 10-20 knot winds, the fishermen add them together, expecting 30-knot winds.

Those meteorology maids and misters who rip and read the weather for gold coin should take a hike along the coast and meet some real fishermen meteorologists who figured out the weather a couple hundred years ago and preserve their knowledge in rhyme and song.

To wit:

"Circle around the moon, sailors go aloft full soon."

"The moon swallows the wind."

"One star ahead of the moon, towing her, and another astern, chasing her, is a sign of a storm."

"A nor' wester is not long in debt to a sou' wester."

"A dappled sky, like a painted woman, soon changes its face."

"When as much blue in the sky and will make a Dutchman a pair of pants the weather will clear."

Well, you get the true Maine weather prediction picture.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, Aug. 1, at the West Parish Congregational Church, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting will be the society's official recognition of the bicentennial of the founding of congregationalism in what is today Bethel. Speaker for the evening will be Margaret Joy Tibbetts, who along with Sumner Burgess has compiled a history of his denomination from 1796 to the present. Anyone interested in attending this meeting is cordially invited to do so. Copies of the new history will be for sale. This meeting is another in the continuing series honoring the history of Bethel in its bicentennial year.

Another contribution for the 1996 Annual Fund Campaign has been received from Dr. John and Jane Payne of Baltimore, Md., in honor of Barbara Lucas.

Another issue of the society's quarterly, "The Bethel Courier," will soon be published. Anyone wishing a complimentary copy should write the society at P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012 or call the society office at 824-2908.

Briefly

Two confess to flag vandalism

BETHEL--Travis York, 20, and Ryan Wodka, 18, of Bethel have confessed to vandalizing flags placed around town by the American Legion, according to Police Chief Dale Bellman. Wodka and a juvenile have also confessed to slashing tires at Bethel Auto Sales last month. While all parties may be charged with criminal mischief, the victims have requested that no charges be filed if restitution is made.

Seniors get third chance to vote

BETHEL--The Class of 1997 is getting one more chance to make a decision on the day of graduation next June. After mixed results in two earlier surveys, the School Board changed the day from the traditional Friday to Sunday. Some students then protested the change, and the board decided to leave the decision in the hands of administrators, who tentatively said the day would be Sunday. But last week Supt. Ron Jenkins and principal Ted Davis decided to send out one last survey, with a deadline of this Friday to respond. "The results of the voting will be final," said Jenkins.

Polak responds to charges

BETHEL--SAD44 School Board chairman Marcel Polak responded Monday to charges made at a June meeting that he was trying to "stack" the membership of the board's Personnel Committee by holding a seat for someone expected to be appointed to the board (see Citizen, July 3). Polak said trying to hold the seat was wrong, but he would have made the same gesture to any board member. He said he received a list of the expected committee appointments only an hour before the June meeting, and did not have much time to think the situation through. He said he still felt he should have the ability to redo committee assignments "in certain situations with certain directors," such as in the case of changing interests or personal schedule of a board member. But some directors said Monday that altering the current practice for those reasons could lead to chaos, and Polak ultimately said he would abide by the standing procedure.

Whittier to apply for waiver

BETHEL--Frank Whittier is expected to apply for a sign waiver for a half of a Volkswagen bus attached to his Pure Snowboards shop, according to planning assistant Nancy Schlieper. Whittier is listed on tonight's Planning Board agenda. The town considers the bus to be a sign, and with two signs already in place at the business, Whittier is currently exceeding the two-sign limit allowed by ordinance. He recently registered the bus with the state as a trailer.

NOVA budget passes easily

RUMFORD--The Northern Oxford Vocational Area's $905,772 secondary budget for FY'97 passed easily last week, 213 to 30. An earlier budget of $928,672 was narrowly defeated in separate votes in the member towns. Robert Worthley of the Western Maine Taxpayers' Association had advocated defeating the budget again as a first step toward sending vocational education back to the individual high schools, including Telstar. NOVA director Dewaine Craig had argued that move would have made vocational education more expensive to the towns.

Neighbors save burning camp

WOODSTOCK--A camp owned by Howard Lowell of Shelburne, N.H., was saved from fire by quick-thinking neighbors and a garden hose last week. The camp, located on Great Concord Pond, was struck by lightning. The neighbors were using the hose to spray the fire when the Woodstock Fire Department arrived. "If they hadn't, the whole place probably would have gone up," said chief Bill Seames. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

Oxford County unemployment down

AUGUSTA--The unemployment rate in Oxford County dropped from 7.6 percent in April to 7.3 percent in May, according to the Department of Labor. Unemployment in May of 1995 was 7.7 percent. Maine's seasonally-adjusted unemployment rate rose to 5.5 percent in May from 5.2 percent in April. Last year's May figure was 5.8 percent. There were losses in government and nondurable-goods manufacturing jobs. Nonfarm employment was up slightly from a year ago, with gains in trade and services surpassing losses in manufacturing and government.

Wight backed by committee

AUGUSTA--A legislative committee last week voted to support Land Use Regulation Commission chairman Steve Wight, despite allegations he was improperly lobbied by paper company officials. Wight, along with Steven Mason of Beaver Cove, is now expected to be reappointed to the commission later this year, following their approval by the Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry Committee. They had been criticized for accepting a memo from paper industry representatives outlining the industry's objections to a draft comprehensive land use plan being developed by the LURC for land in unorganized townships -- much of which is owned by paper companies. Two commissioners had asked for input after changes were made to the preliminary draft plan, months after the commission had initially sought the landowners' opinions. Some critics said Wight and Mason had broken LURC rules because they had accepted "comment" after the public record had closed. But past chairman Charles O'Brien said the rules say decisions can only be based on the public record, and that does not prohibit them from also talking to constituents.

Pre-pregnancy planning offered

NORWAY--Tri-county Health Services is now offering pre-pregnancy planning services at its Norway, Rumford, Farmington and Auburn sites. During a planning session, a woman or couple will find out what health, genetic, nutritional, lifestyle, environmental and/or work-related risks that either of both parents may have that may potentially cause problems to a future baby. "What many people don't realize is that a woman's lifestyle before she becomes pregnant, can be just as important as her lifestyle while pregnant," said clinic director Sarah Hayes. "By the time a woman knows that she is pregnant, many of her baby's vital organs are already formed. How normally they are formed can be affected by the mother's diet, medications and lifestyle before she knows she is pregnant." For more information, call 207-795-4007.

July drownings equal a year's worth

PORTLAND--Nine people have drowned in Maine's rivers, lakes and streams so far in July -- the same number the state usually tallies in a year. "No one here can remember this many drownings in this short a period of time," Gary Anderson, safety officer for the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, said last week. "And from the number of cases, there doesn't seem to be any common thread except the high water in a few of the drownings." July 2 was a particularly bad day for drowning accidents in Maine with four people dying in separate parts of the state. "Our divers are basically exhausted because they've been diving in several places in the state," Anderson said. "Before they got home from one body retrieval they were called to another."

Fans to choose new Garcia stamp

MONTserrat--The British colony of Montserrat, in the Caribbean, will bring Jerry Garcia's friends and fans together to choose a commemorative postage stamp, to be issued in September. The colony is home to Air Studios, where the Rolling Stones, Eric Clapton and Lou Reed have recorded. Profits from stamp sales will benefit the Young Persons Concert Foundation, a charity chartered in the United Kingdom and now being registered in the United States. Stamp voters will choose between two designs -- a younger and an older Garcia. Anyone interested in ordering stamps may call 1-800-966-2544.

WAITING FOR HELP--Passers-by hold a tarp over injured motorcyclist Mark Michaud Jr. during a downpour Friday, while waiting for an ambulance to arrive. Michaud, 42, of Castine, was hurt when his motorcycle struck a car broadside at the intersection of the Sunday River Road/Skiway Access Road, according to Oxford County deputy Chris Wainwright. The car, driven by Peter Miserocchi, 18, of Andover, was headed out the Access Road when it hydroplaned and slid into the opposite lane. The oncoming Michaud was not able to avoid the car. MedCare Ambulance took him to Stephens Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for a fractured leg and released. Miserocchi was not injured. (Photo by Allison Aloisio)

Mundt-Allen Post #81

The annual Mundt-Allen Post #81 picnic for members and guests will be held July 28 from noon to 5 p.m., at the Stony Brook Camp-ground/Recreation area. Stony Brook is located on Route 2, about a half mile east of the Bear River Cabins (intersection of Routes 2 and 26). Stony Brook features a swimming pool, horseshoe pits and various other recreational facilities.

The picnic will feature punch, lemonade, meat (steaks, burgers, red hot dogs and chicken), provided by the Post, and salads, snacks and desserts provided by attending members. Chefs will begin cooking at about noon.

Everyone planning to attend should phone Rich Grover or Mona Lowe (835-2802), if they do not call you first. Let them know how many people in your family are coming, so they can order enough meat. Also, be prepared to tell them what you can bring (salad, snack or dessert, enough for your family plus one person). Note: There is an admission charge to Stony Brook of $2 per adult and $1 per child under age 13. There will be a tent so come rain or shine!

From the Bethel Police log:

Bouncing spring sprung on police

On July 19 at 8:21 p.m., a vehicle traveling south on Route 26 near Blake Hill struck an eight-inch piece of leaf spring that was in the road, blowing a tire. The spring was thrown into the windshield of a second vehicle, also traveling south, shattering the windshield. The spring then bounced over the second vehicle, struck the roadway and bounced onto the hood of the Bethel police cruiser and into the windshield. A county deputy was requested to investigate. It is yet to be decided if the incident was a motor vehicle accident. The deputy will check with the traffic division regarding a report. The cruiser's hood was dented in the incident.

Wednesday, July 17

At 7:31 a.m., a report was received of a man with long black hair and a mustache walking down the road past the Bethel Spa Motel, yelling profanities and hitting shrubbery with his shirt. The complainant was concerned for his well-being. The officer said he would check on him if he saw him, but there was no further report of the subject.

At 9:40 p.m., a Bethel Road resident reported that two days earlier he saw two young males walking behind his sister's residence on the Rabbit Road. They walked onto the railroad tracks and then ducked into the woods. On the 17th, the complainant went into the area where he had seen the subjects. He found an unknown type of motorized equipment and a duffel bag with the gas tank and air filter in it. Police recovered the equipment.

Saturday, July 20

At 5:35 p.m., an unidentified person reported several juveniles were behind the Ethel Bisbee School. Police found them sitting on the back steps. Several packages of cigarettes were confiscated. Warnings were issued, since ownership couldn't be determined. The subjects were advised not to return.

At 8:15 p.m., a Gilad resident reported that while he was in his vehicle parked near the Bethel Fire Station, a man had kicked the driver's side door of his vehicle and threatened to kill him. He said the subject had accused him of stealing marijuana from his residence, a charge the complainant had denied. The complainant and his witnesses were given statement forms to complete. At 8:30 police spoke with the subject on Main Street. He admitted to the incident and said he was trying to scare the complainant so he wouldn't steal again. He wouldn't elaborate on what had been stolen.

Sunday, July 21

At 4:19 p.m., the Oxford County Sheriff's Department requested assistance while responding to an Albany residence. The officer stood by while a deputy spoke with several intoxicated males. The deputy was attempting to locate a female subject who was believed to have made a call from the residence. She was reportedly wanted by probation and parole. She could not be located, and the officers left.

CANINE CARE—Nancy Baker recently opened "Nanny's Doggy Daycare" on the Sunday River Road in Bethel. She's optimistic she will draw business from both residents and visitors to the area. In researching the need for canine day care, Baker said, "I got an excellent response from the Chamber of Commerce. And the people at Sunday River said 'Do it.'" She expects most of her business will come from skiers, but said local people may, for instance, leave their pets with her while shopping on hot days in the summer. Her prices range from $12 to $15 a day, depending on the dog. She also requires proof of vaccinations. Baker is shown here with her own dog, Bear (left), and client Maple.

Andover Olde Home Days

"The Andover Fair" will be the theme for this year's "Andover Olde Home Days," on Aug. 2, 3, and 4. Friday evening starts the festivities with a concert on the common. There will be a donation can there for those wishing to contribute to help defray expenses.

At the Town Hall that night, the Ellis River Riders will bring back by popular demand the Beano/Casino night.

Saturday starts off with a parade on Main Street at 10 a.m. This will be followed by games, crafts, raffles and vendors of all kinds. There will be children's games on Morse's lawn as well as a fly casting contest. During the day there will be the cow chip flip and horseshoe pitching. There is an art show at the town hall on Saturday, a flower show at the Historical building, the Beautiful Garden Contest, arm wrestling and karaoke on the band stand. Olde Home Day T-shirts and buttons will be on sale much of the day on the common.

The Western Maine Street Rodders will host a classic car show at Aker's field.

New this year will be a photo contest on display at the library during the open house on Saturday. Entries should be submitted to the library by 4 p.m. Thursday. A ribbon will be awarded in four categories: people, children under 8, landscapes, and pets or animals. Gerald Schachter will be the judge.

The First Congregational Church will be offering coffee and donuts for sale at the CEB as well as a cookie walk, raffle of a basket filled with "A taste of Andover." Back after being absent last year will be the popular Bargain Basement.

The Snow Valley Goers will have a beanhole bean supper with all the fixings Saturday night at the CEB. The Andover Fire Department will host a chicken BBQ at the station. The Mahosuc Music Makers will play during dinner. This group of musicians is sponsored by the Mahosuc Arts Council.

The Fire Department will also have a fire muster in the ballfield. Saturday night the station will have a BYOB dance with music by The Travelers, starting at 9 p.m.

Raffle tickets are on sale for an original 16 x 20 oil painting donated by Judy Hall of Roxbury. The painting will be on display at the art show. The drawing will take place at the art show on Saturday.

Judging for the Beautiful Garden Contest will be on Friday starting at 3 p.m. Barbara Murphy of the Oxford County Extension Service will be judging.

Roscoe the clown will be performing throughout the day on the common.

Sunday brings the Ellis River Riders horse show at the arena in South Andover. The all-day show has lots of fun for everyone. General admission is free. Stop at the Feed Bag for lots of good food while at the show.

The Impala's will play Sunday on the common. In case of rain, they will perform in the town hall.

Donations will be accepted to help defray cost.

Rotary Club notes

The last few months have been busy and productive for the Bethel Rotary Club.

At the beginning of June, many Bethel Rotary Club members were involved with the annual District 7780 conference, which was hosted by the Oxford Hills Rotary at the Summit Hotel.

George Rice of the Oxford Hills club was district governor this past year, and the conference was a celebration of his very successful year.

Bethel Rotarian Nancy Harrison organized a Western Line Dancing Night. It was huge fun and nearly 200 Rotarians and spouses attended. Dewane Craig organized a tennis tournament and Robin Zinchuk organized a fun run.

Friday and Saturday nights found hundreds of Rotarians from Maine and New Hampshire fellowshiping over dinner and listening to inspirational speeches detailing Rotary's successful missions all over the world.

The weekly meetings were wonderful. Karen Bean, a middle school English teacher, came to speak about the new Teacher Certification Program.

Western Mountain's Alliance Executive Director Debbie Burd spoke one week on the great work the alliance is doing throughout the region. Rotarian Dewane Craig spoke about the work of the Rotary Foundation, which is touching lives all over the world in meaningful and helpful ways.

Marcel Polak, the coordinator for the Appalachian Mountain Club's Upper Androscoggin Initiative, shared the vision of the current program, which encompasses all the towns from the head waters of the river in Errol down through Bethel.

Rotary had two events in June. Kevin Finley and Allen Connors organized a Golf Tournament on June 17 at the Bethel Inn. It was a fun event and a good start as an annual fundraiser. The annual Rotary Auction was moved this year to Saturday, June 29. The event was expanded to include a Flea Market. Chairman David Murphy declared the entire event a success. Thanks

IT RAINED ON THE PARADE, and just about everything else planned for Mollyockett Day in Bethel. The only participants who seemed to appreciate Saturday's wet conditions were the frogs in the frog jumping contest. Still, a respectable number of people braved the weather to enjoy the day's events. Here (from left), Kara and Samantha Coulombe and Carolyn Strickland wait under their umbrellas for the start of the parade on Main Street.

JUBILEE MUSIC MINISTRY

Gospel singer and recording artist Laurie Meserve will appear in concert at North Waterford Congregational Church on Sunday, Aug. 4 at 7 p.m.

The Jubilee Music Ministry, with Laurie Meserve as soloist and her husband, Linwood as sound technician, is from Kennebunkport and Pinellas Park, Fla.

CHAMPION ARRANGEMENT--Janet Black of the Unicorn Flower Shop in Bethel took first place in a floral competition in Boston earlier this month. The contest was sponsored by the Northeast Floral Association and included competitors from all over the Northeast. Black's monochromatic arrangement (using only the color green) included many plants, such as Belles of Ireland and braided bear grass. It sits on a natural tablecloth of leaves and moss. A hornet's nest and two lunar moths were also part of the display. Black is shown here with the arrangement and a plaque she received.

BRITISH BAND TO PLAY

The West Berkshire Band from West Berkshire, England, will perform at the Bethel common gazebo on Sunday, July 28.

The 27-piece band is made up of teenage musicians from a music center in West Berkshire. They are touring Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

The concert is sponsored by the Bethel Rotary Club. The club and the Mahosuc Music Makers will host a barbecue on the lawn at Stan Howe's house after the performance.

The concert begins at 4 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

SMH HEALTH INFORMATION ROOM OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The new Health Information Resource Room, located in the Ripley Medical Office building in Norway, is now open to the public.

The resource room offers a unique approach to providing health information and education to western Maine by providing a wide variety of resources such as books, magazines, newsletters, video tapes, computer systems updated monthly with the latest in health information, and librarian assistance in identifying area resources for answers to any health questions.

The librarian also has internet access to national medical library and health-related web sites and will be available to help consumers use the materials in the room. The free service is made possible by a $24,000 grant from the Bingham Betterment Foundation and community gifts to the 1994 Stephen Memorial Hospital annual fund.

Students of all ages and the general public are welcome to utilize the new service which is open five days a week: Monday from noon to 7 p.m., and Tuesday through Thursday from noon to 5 p.m. For more information, call the Health Resource Room at 743-5933, extension 323.

BARN DANCE, IN A REAL BARN

Sally Taylor, of the Bicentennial Barn Committee, presents a flower arrangement to Barbara Douglass in appreciation of the Douglasses' hosting Saturday's barn dance.

Bethel Bicentennial Committee

By JIM ROSE

Before the days of mass-media, home entertainment and during the age when agriculture was the pulse of industry and employment, one of the staples of community recreation was the barn dance.

In the spirit of our bicentennial year, the barn dance at the Douglass homestead on Mayville Road will be the scene of an old-time celebration of community from 7 to 10 p.m. on Saturday, July 27.

Weather permitting, from 5:30 to 7 p.m., people are free to bring their own picnic supper for a pre-dance outdoor gathering. Admission for the dance will be a nostalgic 50 cents (larger donations will be gladly accepted), and likewise, lemonade will be 5 cents.

There will be no parking on Route 2. Patrons are welcome to be dropped off at the Douglass barn, and all parking will be behind the Angry Dog Pub across the road from the Douglass'.

Music and calling will be provided by Serod Pudding, who themselves note that it is rare to attend a barn dance that is still actually held in a barn, rather than a hall.

The demise of large, open-spaced barns makes Saturday's event a special treat indeed. Just ask Serod Pudding when you get there.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY--A surprise 92nd birthday party was held for Mrs. R. Glenn Murphy on July 14. The Nazarene Church of Bethel gave the party.

GROVER REUNION

Mason Township teemed with activity the weekend of July 5, 6, and 7 as members of the Grover clan gathered at "the farm" for their first family reunion in many years. Ninety-one Grover descendants, in-laws, outlaws and guests signed the guest book at Rupert and Ina's front lawn. Participants included representatives from Walter, Verna (Thayer), Rupert, Howard, Ernest, Robert, Stanley, Margaret (Perham) and Richard's families.

Attendees came from as far away as California, Suzanne Grover Bernhard and family; Idaho, Lee Ann Grover Peppinger and her son Andy from Salt Lake City, Utah; North Carolina, Tracy Thayer and fiancé Norman Greenberg; Pittsburgh, Pa., Skip Thayer family; Chicago, Ill., Scott Thayer family; and Burlington, Vt., Dorothy Grover family.

Reunion festivities included an extended outdoor cookout/picnic, several marathon softball games, horseshoes, night "kick the can" for the younger set, and numerous indoor card games. The softball games were multi-generational, featuring boy and girl players from about age five to 81.

NORTH WATERFORD WORLD'S FAIR

The North Waterford World's Fair will take place July 26-28 at the North Waterford Fairgrounds.

Friday's events will include ox-pulling, senior citizens' horseshoe tournament, egg-throwing contest, and biscuit-baking contest.

Saturday's events will be a steer and ox show, 4-H dairy show, pig scramble, singles horseshoe tournament, pulling ponies, bean supper and Black Cap Cloggers.

Sunday will bring farmers' draft horse and pony scoot and twitch competition, horse pulling and men's and women's pairs horseshoe tournament.

A crafts show and exhibits in many categories will be ongoing through the weekend.

For more information call 583-2319.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

Sixty-six members and two guests enjoyed a delicious pot-roast dinner at their monthly meeting held at Shorelands in Harrison on July 10.

President Helen Saunders opened the meeting with a salute to the flag, after which she gave the treasurer's and sunshine committee reports in the absence of Sarah Stevens and Muriel Faudi. Norris Brown is recuperating at home after surgery and Lois Leavitt was welcomed back to the group after several weeks in a hospital and recuperation at home.

Polly Davis read the minutes of the June meeting for Barbara Brown, secretary. She listed the following names of members celebrating July birthdays: Joyce Bennett, Edwin Brown, Barbara Bryant, Norma Cross, Celia Gorman, Irene Hadfield, Rose Hutchins, Eva Lane, Mary Lyon, Grace Morrill, Earlon Paine, Eva Perry, Raymond Saunders, Phyllis Smith, Connie Vautour, Virginia Walker, Barbara Wheeler and Garey York.

Rudy Royer announced the silver savers' drawing would be held in two months. Money from the silver savers is used to subsidize members' meals and bus trips and is a very worthwhile project. Items for the monthly raffle would also be appreciated.

After a few words by Vice President Harold Powell, it was reported the next meeting will be the annual picnic and brown bag auction at Stony Brook Camping Area in Hanover on Aug. 14. The club will furnish hot dogs, hamburgers and drinks and each member is asked to bring a salad or hot dish and brown bag items for the auction.

Lindley Wieden asked for a show of hands of those interested in an Aug. 21 trip to either Penobscot Marine Museum in Searsport or the Gray Animal Farm. The members opted for the Gray Animal Farm, leaving in a caravan of private cars from the Bethel Area Health Center at 9 a.m. with a noontime dinner at Cole Farms.

Bethel

Many Bethel residents joined other SAD 44 residents who attended the special meeting held at the Mountain Valley High School last Wednesday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to determine the fate of the NOVA program, which currently seemed to be in jeopardy because of budget issues. Following a brief discussion, a referendum was presented for vote, which passed "yes" by a wide majority. Judy Webster gave a birthday party for Ruth Cummings of the Bethel House, at her home on Vernon Street on Tuesday evening, July 16. A lovely meal including birthday cake and ice cream was enjoyed. Those present besides the hostess and honored guest were Cindy Millett, Nancy Fox, Dottie Bartlett all of Bethel; Andrea Bennett of Sunday River; JoAnne Sawyer and Ann Roy of Locke Mills. Ruth received many nice gifts and a very pleasant evening was had by all those present. Greg Howe, son of Rodney and Geraldine Howe, returned to Maryland last Wednesday after visiting his parents for several days. Sandra Howe and her mother Claire Gillings of Scarborough were guests at the Stanley Farm last Saturday. Sue Howe was in Boston last Tuesday night, where she picked up her daughter Sarah at the airport. Sarah had been visiting in Texas and New Mexico for three weeks. A 50th Wedding Anniversary celebration honoring Kenneth and Gwyneth Bohr was hosted by Stuart and Ellen Crocker at their home in Northwest Bethel on Sunday, July 21. The Bohr's daughters, Sarah and Gretchen, joined friends from the Bethel Congregational Church and the Episcopal House Church as their parents restated their marriage vows, led by Don Coverdale. Roger and Timothy Dock, Chris Farrel and Roger Farivanti of Glastonbury, Conn. were weekend visitors of the Norman Docks.

July is not my favorite month as far as weather goes, and it goes and goes. Especially this year with so much rain, and when it hasn't rained it has mostly been quite warm and muggy. I suppose that is better than 100-degree heat. I don't think we can complain much about the weather table now. It must be filling up nicely. Certainly the Greenwood beach is temporarily the beach is under water at the moment. Val and Caroline Greene left Friday, headed back to Connecticut, after spending several days at their home here. Justin Palmer tells me his new bunny rabbit has been growing nicely. That's good news. Gerry Shimamura and I visited her grandchildren, Shandy, Dylan and Seth, and parents Dawn and Buddy, at their home in Norway Monday afternoon. Noriko was not there as she was visiting a friend. Gerry brought Shandy back for an overnight visit so she could see friend Calla Cobb before she headed back to Colorado with her parents and brother. I'm glad to see someone did an article on the flaggers. It must be a thankless task sometimes, but they do an excellent job of keeping the traffic moving and deserve recognition. I go out of my way, or did, to avoid them since I got harassed by one when they were working on Route 26. But then I decided it was stupid just because I had a bad experience with one of them. After all, look how many nice ones there are. No doubt the guy just had a bad hair day or days since there was more than one incident. If I had to stand all day in the heat and dust, I might be a bit short-tempered, too. Ann Fitzmorris and I were in Norway on Wednesday where she visited her father at the Veterans Home and then we did some shopping. Gerry Shimamura and I were in Lewiston Thursday doing some shopping and then we enjoyed lunch at one of the many fine restaurants. It seems as if I must have eaten at all of them, but I'm sure I haven't. Banks and restaurants seem to flourish these days and appear like seeds sprouting. I wonder, does that tell us anything?

Hi people! What a beautiful day on Wednesday. Oh yeah, I forgot to mention that the Iron Horse Restaurant makes a great Shrimp Piccata, and if you're the daring type, Jerry says the Wild Boar was delicious. We were pleasantly served by Nancy, and enjoyed the train's nostalgic flair.

Don't forget to come up to the Ladies Aid Craft/Yard/Bake Sale on Saturday, July 27, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Rooms at the lodge in the Bull Moose Campground are now ready.

Saturday, Upton and many other towns experienced high winds, trees down and power outages.

Trivia time: In 1949 the Upton town report states that, "Following a directive from the state office of fire protection, it became necessary to rehanging the doors at the school to open outward." The school house was also painted that year.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan
This is a lovely day and I'm enjoying it. The sun peeks through the trees and a gentle breeze is coming from the northwest. At this very moment I hear a plane overhead.

In my mind, I live with my pond reflections. If I reflect on my small pond, it glides through my mind, and memories come and go about things that I used to find.

Above the waters, when smooth and blue, enchanted with pure grace, bloomed the pond lilies so bright, and I'd look down to see my face.

I'd row down through the pads, water splashing by my side. Water bugs and dragon flies, dashed away to go and hide.

There's something about a boat ride that is happy and free, like turning back pages of time, to the days that used to be.

So many hours I have spent, up the river under a tree, just the boat, the whispering leaves, the sky, fresh air, and me.

Its waters are pure, shallows bright and clear, where eddies play. The flowers are the fairest there. So inviting I want to stay.

So, whenever I feel sad and lonely, I go to this tranquil pond. And happy memories return, bringing things of which I'm fond.

H. Van Dyke who saw the lovely things of nature would and did put it this way, "A pillar of power, a dome of delight, a shrine of song and a joy of sight!"

Several from here attended the car aces at Loudon, N.H. over the weekend. They had a good time.

Robert and Jennie Holt came from Windsor on Sunday to spend the day with his parents. David was in Farmington and Ann was at Loudon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arland Rogers came to see me this week.

There are numerous wildlife visitors at my place. I have had an evening raccoon, six gray squirrels at once, four baby raccoons and two red squirrels. The chipmunks are always here and one morning I had a beautiful baby deer roaming my lawn.

On Wednesday Sylvia Cummings of South Paris and her sister, Madge Bland of Conn., came to visit Fay Holt and me. Zilpha DiArenzo's son and family is visiting her.

Alder River Grange 145 had election of officers on June 28. The following people were elected: master, James Lowe; overseer, Stanley Howe; lecturer, Connie Tuttle; steward, Earl Hutchinson; assistant steward, Kathleen Barker; L.A. steward, Tammy Pingree; chaplain, Ivy Philbrook; treasurer, Stanley Howe; Ceres, Gerry Howe; Pomona, Jeannette Kimball; Flora, Nina Mollicone; Exec. Comm., Melon Kimball; pianist, Althea Fish.

Alder River Grange will have a Rummage Sale and Chicken BBQ and Bean Supper on Aug. 17. There was a regular meeting on July 12. The next meeting will be Aug. 16, to set up the tables for the sale. If anyone would like table space at the sale, it will be $5.

Gary Smith and Wanda Howard took Polly Smith with them to camp at Flying Point in Freeport recently. Jim and Donna Bernard of Andover took Polly Smith camping on Hermit Island.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble of Hanover, N.H., visited Florence Hastings recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dalhe of Shrewsbury, Mass. visited Florence Hastings recently.

Denise Coolidge, daughter of Daisy Coolidge, made the dean's list for the spring term at UMO.

Daisy Coolidge, Grace Gibson, Jackie Libby and Ed Rowding recently went to Foxwood, Conn. All had good luck.

Mary Bean, Elaine Bean and Arthur Hertell visited Steve and Pam Wojtylak at their home in Westbrook over the fourth.

North Newry

by Gil Sealey
Newry Community Church services were held on Sunday with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. The message of the day was: "God's Gifts" from Psalm 145:14, "The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed."

A reminder that there will be a picnic Aug. 18 at the church, all are welcome.

Happy birthdays to the Hanscom gang last week, July 14, "Delight thyself also in the Lord, and He shall give thee the desires of thine heart." Psalm 37.

Bowling at the Oxford Lanes one day last week were Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Sealey, Louise Tetley, Doris Parent, Irene Hadfield and Olive Anderson. On the overall scores Karlene was high on the triples beating Gil by two pins. Gil was high on the singles and beat Karlene by two pins. Of the righties, Doris was high on the triples and also high on the singles, beating Irene by three pins. Karlene had one spare, Betsy one strike and Gil had two spares.

Mr. and Mrs. Norma and Irving Bessey, their daughter Sheila and Robert Scott and family, plus a friend, spent some time at their camp. While there, they were guests of Freda, Leslie and Amy Robertson. Then they left for Indiana on July 12.

Quote of the week: "Our government has been tried in peace, and it has been tried in war, and has proved itself fit for both. It has been assailed from without, and it has successfully resisted the shock. It has been disturbed within, and it has effectively quieted the disturbance. It can stand adversity, it can stand everything but the marring of its own beauty and the weakening of its own strength. It can stand everything but the effects of our own rashness and our own folly. It can stand everything but disorganization, disunion and nullification."

Correction, in last week's column, on the bowling scores. It was Karlene high on the triples beating Gil by four pins. And it was Doris, not Irene, who was high on the singles, beating Irene by three pins. Somebody made a boo boo in printing. What's going on? Is there a mouse in the house? Will I have to put Socks on the scent?

Happy 11th birthday to Kurt Wight on July 19.

Katie, Kurt and Kevin Wight took swimming lessons at Songo Pond.

Andover

by Karen McKay
The Andover Historical Society is looking for pictures and memorabilia of the Andover Fairgrounds which began in 1884. The society is looking to borrow photos, fliers or news clippings related to the fair to be copied and displayed on Olde Home Days. If you have items that may be of interest, please contact Bev Swan at 392-4742 or Trudy Akers at 392-3157.

The Olde Home Days Committee will hold a wrap-up meeting tonight, Wednesday, July 24, at 7 p.m. at the home of Trudy Akers. Individuals involved with the organization of events, or anyone interested in volunteering during the weekend's happenings are invited to attend.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Roberta Learned who was recently hospitalized and released. Also to Mr. Merton Perkins who hasn't been feeling well.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale McKay and Carson enjoyed a weekend stay at Mount Desert Island, touring Acadia Park and Bar Harbor by bicycle.

South Woodstock

Sorry there wasn't any news from me last week. I was really busy and didn't get it sent on time.

Deylan and Derick Poland (twins) celebrated their third birthday recently. They are the sons of Larry and Pam Poland and grandsons of Leon and Rosalie Poland all of South Woodstock.

Chara Nadeau turned three years old in June. I saw her with her mother Theresa in the post office. Chara is a real cutie.

Barbara Cash has been on vacation in Arizona. While there she visited her friend, my sister Dotie Critser, in Tempe. I'm sure Dotie was glad to see her as she always enjoys seeing someone from Maine.

Debbie Poland and son Heath have gone to Illinois. Heath will be attending college there this fall. We wish him well.

Richard and I enjoyed a cookout at Sally Smith's home in Bridgton last Saturday night. Steak, hamburgers, salads and many other goodies were enjoyed by everyone there.

My granddaughter Jessie Hart helped me clean my car inside this week. We were going to do it here at my home, but the power was out for over four hours, so I went down to Jessie's in South Paris and we did the work there. She did a good job.

Esther Davis celebrated her birthday this week with a visit from: Patsy Tibbets, Lewis Haskell, Jackie and Tim Kennaugh, Ethel and Erion Twitchell and Jerry Shorey. Dessert was cheese cake and chocolate pie. Esther has been feeling under the weather lately, but said she is feeling some better now. I wish her many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lowe, Fort Wayne, Ind., arrived Sunday to spend a few days with his mother, Phyllis Lowe.

Quote of the week: "A bank is a place that will lend you money if you can prove you don't need it."

Songo Pond

by Alice Kimball
Monday, July 15 was St. Smithins Day. Years ago we always learned to recite a little poem. "If

St. Smithins Day be fair and bright for forty days no rain in sight. But if by chance that day it rains, for forty days it will do the same."

Visitors here on a recent Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frechette, Mrs. Eva Barker and Mrs. Edna Durgin, all of Oxford.

On Sunday, July 14, Danny and Paula Wheeler hosted a birthday party honoring his grandmother, Mrs. Celia Gorman of Bethel. Many relatives and families of Celia attended, coming from Berlin and Gorham, Bethel and Albany.

Birthday cake, ice cream, punch and coffee were served. Many lovely gifts and flowers were given to the honored guest who has reached 92 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tanguay and family from Baltimore, Md., have arrived to spend some time at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid Warren of Gilmanton, N.H., recently spent a week at their cottage here.

Recent visitors at the Wentzell cottage were Mrs. Barbara Brackett of Rangeley, her daughter Lisa Mejorado and her two sons, Kenny and Keith, all of Virginia. They are Millie's granddaughter, great-granddaughter and two great-grandsons.

Mrs. Rodney Wentzell and grandchildren Emily and Joshua Wentzell have returned to their homes in Mt. Pleasant, S.C., and Wilmington, Del.

Mrs. Barbara Grandin of Florida, with her son Lt. Gen. Jay Grandin from Korea recently visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Edith Hess.

More headaches are caused by not thinking, than by thinking. Emerson.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. Since last writing I have attended the concert at Moore Park in South

Paris, where the Parisiennes performed with their toe-tapping and oldies music. They sure are good and the park was quite filled with appreciative people of all ages. While there, I met an old "Shoe Shop" friend, Priscilla Burnette and we had a nice chat. She is currently working in New Hampshire.

Dennis and Marge Farnsworth have gone on vacation for a week and Delbert McAllister, Frances Grant and Donald Plummer are taking care of things at the farm while they are away.

Bruce Smith is now at the Veterans Home in South Paris. Kezar Lake Grange is putting on a chicken BBQ, corn on the cob, cole slaw, rolls, beverage, ice-cream, etc at the North Lovell Grange Hall on Saturday, Aug. 3 from 4 to 7 p.m. The price is $6 and $3. This is always good, believe me. They also have take-out available.

Kate Flynn has arrived at her home here in East Stoneham after being away in the hospital having surgery. It's been a long time. Welcome home Kate.

Jackie Flynn and family from Stoneham, Mass. are at the cottage at Lake Keewaydin for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mooney are at their cottage at the lake. Mrs. Kevin Lyons and two boys from Wakefield, Mass. are also here at Lake Keewaydin on vacation. What better place to be than little ole' East Stoneham and at Keewaydin Lake.

Frances Grant and Eleanor Nelson took Grace Nelson out to dinner and shopping in Bridgton on July 14. "Bim" also went and had his doggie bag.

On Tuesday, July 16, Albert and Eleanor Nelson called on Gladys Kilgore, Bill Bancroft, Mike Cummings and Wilma Taylor in Norway.

Also on Tuesday, about 35 or more people gathered at the beautiful home of Rep. Al Barth and wife in Bethel, for an Oxford County Republican Victory '96 picnic. It began with a 6 p.m. social and visiting hour and a 7 p.m. barbecue (which was real good) with the meeting following. The meeting was moved into the garage on account of big black clouds forming overhead. Talk was a good idea as it did rain hard later in the evening with thunder and lightning. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were called for and accepted. Bill Perkins' resignation was cause for discussion and an administrative meeting is to take place soon, to discuss candidates and replacement.

There will be a fund-raiser picnic the latter part of August and the next regular meeting will be held at Fryeburg.

The next public church supper will be July 25 at Harts Corner in Albany, at Stoneham on Aug. 1 and North Waterford on Aug. 16. They begin at 5 p.m. Come and get a good meal, visit with friends and help the church.

Now, if you've forgotten, Beano is every Tuesday at the Stoneham Race Barn at 7 p.m.

Bethel Selectmen's Meetings

On weeks in which the Bethel selectmen meet (usually the weeks of the first and third Mondays in the month) the meetings will be televised on Channel IV. The broadcasts will normally be at 7 p.m. on Friday, but schedule modifications will occasionally be necessary, so please check the on-air calendar for up-to-date information.

Broadcast of the selectmen's meeting is a cooperative effort of Channel IV and The Bethel Citizen.

Obituaries

JOAN M. PHILBRICK

Mrs. Joan M. Philbrick, 58, died Thursday, July 18, 1996, at the Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston. She was a resident of Rumford and had lived in the area all her life.

She was born in Rumford on July 25, 1937, the daughter of Joseph J. and Concetta Parisi Pulia. She was a graduate of Mexico High School with the class of 1954. She worked for Androscoggin Home Health Services as a secretary and then as a ward clerk at the Rumford Community Hospital until her retirement. She was married in Rumford on November 27, 1954, to Gary Philbrick.

Mrs. Philbrick was a Communicant of St. Athanasius, St. John Church in Rumford and was a former member of the Lodge Goriziettes 2014 Sons of Italy. She enjoyed cooking for other people and she especially enjoyed her family.

Survivors include her husband Gary of Rumford; four sons, Gary Philbrick, Jr. of Germantown, Md.; Michael Philbrick of Rumford; Barry Philbrick of Portland and Brian Philbrick of West Bethel; one daughter Maureen Philbrick of Portland; one brother Joseph J. Pulia III of Portsmouth, NH and four grandchildren.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Athanasius, St. John Church in Rumford on Saturday, July 20. Interment was at the St. John Cemetery in Rumford. Those who desire may contribute to the Kidney Foundation of Maine, Box 1134, Portland, ME 04102, in her memory.

GLADYS M. KILGORE

Gladys M. Kilgore, 100, of East Stoneham died Friday, July 19, 1996, at the Norway Convalescent Center.

She was born in East Stoneham, the daughter of Elmer and Hattie Hefferon Parker. She worked as a private cook for many years for a family on Virginia Lake. She was a member of the East Stoneham Congregational Church and the Hannah Richardson Tent Daughters of the Revolutionary War.

Her husband died in 1957. She is survived by three nieces, Henrietta Lovejoy Fryburg, Barbara Millett of Waterford, Helen Smith of South Paris; two nephews, Paul Taylor of Nashua, N.H. and Richard Trimbach of Waterford.

A graveside service was held Monday, July 22 at Hillside Cemetery.

OWEN H. BONNEY JR.

Owen H. Bonney Jr., 72, of West Minot, died Sunday morning, July 21, 1996, at his home.

Born in Paris, June 30, 1924, the son of Hubert and Gladys Buck Bonney, he attended South Paris schools.

Mr. Bonney had traveled all over the country working as a pipe welder. After his retirement, he worked part-time at Twin Town Homes in Oxford. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Cecile of West Minot; two stepsons, Earl Belanger and Richard and his wife Jane Belanger, all of Lewiston; three sisters, Barbara Knightly and Margaret Stevens, both of North Paris and Joan Qualey of South Paris; one brother, Carl of Bryant Pond; six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by three brothers, Corey, Arthur and Merton.

Funeral Services were held Wednesday, July 24, at 10 a.m. at Raymond/Weston-Chandler Funeral Home, Mechanic Falls. In lieu of flowers, those who wish may make memorial gifts in his memory to Androscoggin Home Health Services, Strawberry Avenue, Lewiston, ME 04240.

DORIS C. LAWRENCE

Doris Coffin Lawrence, 78, of West Paris, widow of Ellsworth Lawrence, died late Sunday, July 21, 1996, at the Market Square Health Care Center.

Mrs. Lawrence was born in Woodstock, Aug. 15, 1917, daughter of the late Frank and Lavinia (Dirney) Coffin. She attended Woodstock schools and graduated from Woodstock High School in 1936.

A laithe operator by vocation, she had been employed at Mann's Mill, and more recently by Penley Bros., from which she retired in 1980. Mrs. Lawrence was a lifetime member of Tri-Town Rescue, Paris Senior Citizens, the North Paris Community Club, the American Legion Auxiliary of West Paris and
